

On-Bar Bike Switch

This tried and tested design is now black anodized and resin filled for looks and durability. It sits on the bars so as to conveniently fall under the thumb of the clutch hand.

This design is well suited to sports bikes where the bars fall close to the tank on full lock - the assembly extends just beyond the grips and is unobtrusive. The standard DIN type connector means that it is interchangeable with our other design.